GAME DAY AT THE ELAM CENTER IS THE PLACE TO BE!

Fans of the Ohio Valley Conference have come to know the Elam Center as one of the toughest places to play in the league.

While the fast-paced action on the court is the reason that fans fill the Elam Center each game, it's far from the only attraction.

Fans can take advantage of a number of activities before the action starts, such as "Courtside Dining" or waiting for an autograph from their favorite Skyhawk after the game.

ELAM CENTER SKYHAWK ARENA

Skyhawk Arena has been the full time home of the UT Martin women's basketball team since the 1995-96 season.

The floor in Skyhawk Arena is named for Hall of Fame UT Martin women's basketball alum Pat Head Summitt, who played her collegiate basketball at UT Martin before becoming the winningest basketball coach in the NCAA.

Skyhawk Arena is part of the Kathleen and Tom Elam Center where everything a student-athlete needs can be found: team locker room, Nadine Gearin team room and lounge, training room and weight room.

The eighth head coach in UT Martin women's basketball history, Kevin McMillan enters his 10th year at the helm of the Skyhawk program as the school's all-time wins leader with 173 career victories.

Overall, the Skyhawks have won eight Ohio Valley Conference titles during his nine seasons at UT Martin – including four regular season titles and four tournament crowns. The Skyhawks reached the postseason in six consecutive seasons and seven seasons overall while reaching the NCAA Tournament in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014 while earning a bid to the Women's NIT in 2015, 2016 and 2018. Additionally, the program has recorded five 20-win seasons in the past eight years with the Skyhawks posting a 173-116 record under McMillan, including a 114-36 mark in conference play. His 173 victories rank as the fifth-highest win total in OVC history, as he accounts for three OVC Coach of the Year awards.

Off the court, McMillan's teams have exceeded the average NCAA Academic Progress Rate in each of his nine seasons. He has produced two OVC Scholar-Athletes (the highest individual honor in the league) and has graduated 100 percent of his student-athletes who have completed their eligibility in his Skyhawk tenure.

McMillan saw the Skyhawk return to the postseason for the seventh time in his tenure in 2017-18 with another appearance in the Women's NIT. The Skyhawks would ultimately post a 19-15 overall mark while notching a 13-5 mark in league play to earn the No. 2 seed in the OVC Basketball Championship – where the squad advanced to the tournament finals before falling to No. 22 ranked Belmont in overtime. With the league's automatic bid to the Women's NIT, the Skyhawks would travel to Indiana where they fell to the eventual tournament champions.

As a result of the strong play during the regular season, the Skyhawks saw three different players earn All-OVC honors. Sophomore Kendall Spray was named to the first team after setting a program single-season three-point benchmark while senior Ashton Feldhaus earned second team honors. Freshman Chelsey Perry wrapped up the year's accolades with a spot on the All-Newcomer squad while joining senior Janekia Mason on the OVC All-Tournament team.

Faced with one of the youngest rosters in the nation – boasting just four returners and an abundance of key injuries – the Skyhawks' 2016-17 campaign was a year of highs and lows. UT Martin would post a 12-19 overall record while finishing 8-8 in league play – earning the No. 4 seed in the OVC Basketball Championship before ultimately falling in the tournament semifinals. While the season failed to meet expectations, the squad found growth as three Skyhawks earned All-OVC honors. Kendall Spray highlighted the season by becoming just the program's third OVC Freshman of the Year while joining Ashton Feldhaus and Janekia Mason on the All-OVC second team.

The Skyhawks found success once again during the 2015-16 season, notching the program's eighth 20-win season after finishing with a 22-10 overall record and a 14-2 league mark despite playing with just seven healthy scholarship players for much of the year. The Skyhawks notched their third consecutive regular season title, ranking as the third program in conference history and first since 1993. After winning the season championship, the Skyhawks clinched their sixth straight postseason berth, earning a berth in the Women's NIT where they advanced to the second round before falling to Western Kentucky after defeating Memphis – notching the program's first postseason victory since 1999.

With the squad's success, McMillan notched his second straight OVC Coach of the Year award – marking just the second time in league history that a coach has won the award in back-to-back seasons. Along with top coaching honors, the Skyhawks saw three players earn postseason honors. Haley Howard was an All-OVC first team selection after leading the team in scoring at 14.9 points per game and eclipsing the double-figure mark in 24 games. Jessy Ward was tabbed to the second team after averaging 13.0 points and ranking seventh nationally in both three-point field goals per game and three-point field goals made. Myah Taylor earned a spot on the All-Newcomer squad after averaging 8.7 points per game.

The 2014-15 season kept with the theme of several program firsts within McMillan's tenure while the squad's 22-11 overall record marked the program's seventh 20-win season. UT Martin notched yet another piece of OVC history after becoming just the sixth team in league history to finish the conference season with an unblemished record and just the second to finish 16-0. With the perfect conference record, the Skyhawks clinched their third OVC season title in the last four years while posting a league record of 46-2 during the stretch. The season also served as the fifth consecutive postseason appearance for the Skyhawks after earning an invitation to the Women's National Invitational Tournament against Ole Miss.

The Skyhawks were led by the play of sophomore Ashia Jones who became the program's second Associated Press All-American while also bringing home OVC Female Athlete of the Year, OVC Player of the Year, TSWA Women's Basketball Player of the Year and National Mid-Major Player of the Year honors after averaging 23.4 points, 5.7 rebounds and 2.8 assists per game. Jones ranked fourth in the nation in scoring while setting new single-season records in points (772), field goals made (287) and 30-plus point games (10). Newcomer Jessie Ward also earned All-Newcomer honors after averaging 11.7 points per game and leading the OVC in three-point field goals made (87), three-point field goals per game (2.64) and three-point field goal percentage (40.3 percent).

McMillan's 2013-14 squad recorded its sixth OVC championship during a four-year period with both a regular season and tournament championship. The McMillan led Skyhawks set new program records in victories with 24, while setting a new single season scoring record with 2,681 points en route to receiving the program's first votes in the USA TODAY Sports Top 25 Coaches' Poll and a near upset in the NCAA Tournament against No. 7 North Carolina.

The Skyhawks were led by the play of two premier senior guards in Heather Butler and Jasmine Newsome. Butler finished her career as UT Martin and the OVC's all-time leading scorer with 2,865 career points after being named the league's Player of the Year. Butler finished tied for 16th on the NCAA's all-time scoring list while scoring in double figures every game of her career, spanning 129 games and ranking fifth all-time. She also left the Skyhawks as the best three-point shooter in NCAA history after tying the career three-pointers record with 392.

Joining Butler with postseason accolades was the highly decorated Newsome. Newsome notched her third OVC Defensive Player of the Year honor while finishing her Skyhawk career as the school and league's second all-time leading scorer – second to Butler – with 2,566 career points. The two-time OVC Player of the Year was also named All-Mid Major Player of the Year and Mid Major All-American by College Sports Madness.

In his fourth year, the Skyhawks notched their third consecutive OVC Tournament championship during the 2012-13 season, downing No. 2 seed Tennessee Tech 87-80 in overtime on March 9, 2013. With the victory, UT Martin would advance to their third straight trip to the NCAA Tournament, to take on the Notre Dame Fighting Irish. The Skyhawks suffered a 97-64 setback to the eventual National Championship runner-up despite Butler scoring a tournament-best 37 points in the contest.

The squad was led by a pair of All-OVC first teamers in Newsome (22.6 points per game) and Butler (22.4) who both ranked in the top-10 in the nation in scoring, finishing fifth and sixth, respectively. Newsome captured her second straight OVC Player of the Year honor along with her second OVC Defensive Player of the Year trophy en route to the program's first All-American honorable mention accolade. Butler set an NCAA record by making a three-pointer in 80 consecutive games and with 34 consecutive games in a season.

In 2011-12, McMillan's Skyhawks captured their second OVC Tournament championship in program history, downing No. 3 seed Tennessee Tech 82-65 on March 5. With the victory, UT Martin advanced to make its second consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, traveling to the Horizon Center in Rosemont, Ill., to take on the Tennessee Lady Vols. The Skyhawks suffered a 72-49 setback to the hands of alumnus Pat Head Summitt.

Consisting of a roster of mostly West Tennessee players, the Skyhawks went 23-9 with a 15-1 OVC mark despite having a relatively young roster which featured just one senior. The 23-win season was the second consecutive 20-win slate for the Skyhawks while also leading the nation in scoring with 80.1 points per game. The Skyhawks were also the nation's top team in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.43) and sixth in assists (17.7 apg).

The Skyhawks were led by the sophomore duo of Butler and Newsome after being named to the All-OVC first team for the second consecutive season, as well as the All-OVC Tournament squad. Butler was named OVC Tournament Most Valuable Player. Butler was the nation's fourth leading scorer (23.8 points per game) while Newsome was the 18th leading scorer (19.6 ppg). The trio of Butler, Newsome and Jaclissa Haislip combined to win eight adidas OVC Player of the Week awards.

The 2010-11 season laid the foundation for the future, as three different Skyhawks combined to win an OVC Record 13 Freshmen of the Week honors along with the OVC Team Sportsmanship Award. McMillan's guided the team to a second place finish during the regular season before winning the program's first OVC Tournament title. With the title, the Skyhawks earned its first berth in the NCAA Tournament and played at Cameron Indoor Arena against the Duke Blue Devils.

The Skyhawks went 21-11 with a 14-4 OVC mark in 2010-11 despite having a roster that was the youngest team in America (only two years of Division-I experience heading into the season). The 20-win season was the first since 1998-99 and fourth 20-win campaign in program history.

McMillan's first season at UT Martin was a transformation in every sense of the work as he took over a program that had just finished 2-27 and went winless in conference play. Under his direction the Skyhawks finished the 2010-11 season with an overall record 11-19 while making the program's first OVC Tournament appearance since 2006-07. McMillan took his team all the way to the semifinals of the tournament along with being named OVC Coach of the Year and TSWA Women's Co-Head Coach of the Year.

Prior to being named head coach of the Skyhawks on June 15, 2009, McMillan posted a decorated career as a high school coach within the state of Tennessee. Through his 17 years in the prep ranks, the accumulated a record of 435-126 while winning one state championships and sporting six state tournament appearances. He has had coaching stints at Gibson County High School in Dyer (2007-09), Westview High School in Martin (1997-2005) and Millington High School in Millington (1990-97). McMillan was twice named the Jackson Sun's West Tennessee Coach of the Year in 2003 and 2009, while being tabbed district Coach of the Year 10 times. He also spent two season as an assistant coach at Middle Tennessee State.

McMillan played basketball at Wake Forest for one season (1985) before transferring to Rhodes College to finish out his career from 1986-89. At Rhodes, he was a three-time all-conference selection and in 1988 was named the Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference Player of the Year. In only three seasons, he scored 1,372 career points and still ranks ninth all-time at Rhodes for career points scored.

McMillan received his bachelor's degree in math and business in 1989 from Rhodes, then completed his master's in health and human performance at Middle Tennessee in 2007. He and his wife Paige have two sons, Matt and Ben, along with one daughter, Alli.

2018-19 PREVIEW

UT MARTIN WOMEN'S HOOPS LOOKS FOR GROWTH FROM ROSTER RICH IN YOUTH

The University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team will officially open the 2018-19 season on Tuesday, Nov. 6 with a matchup against former Ohio Valley Conference rival Samford. While the regular season is right around the corner, the Skyhawks are hoping the team's youth and inexperience will quickly meld together to form an explosive offense and suffocating defense.

When looking at the make-up of the roster, some of the names remain the same as the past which saw the Skyhawks post a runner-up finish at the OVC Basketball Championship and notch the program's seventh postseason berth in the past eight seasons. Key contributors in senior Emanyne Robertson along with the sophomore duo of Chelsey Perry and Maddie Waldrop return to the fold to highlight a young roster which feature 13 freshmen and sophomores.

"We are certainly back to being one of the youngest teams in the country," UT Martin head coach Kevin McMillan said. "With 13 freshmen and sophomores, it is a youth movement. What I will say about them, is they are playing hard pretty much every day and come to practice ready to work. They have had some troubles and struggles adapting to college life – meaning time management – which is a factor that you sometime take for granted until you have a team this young."

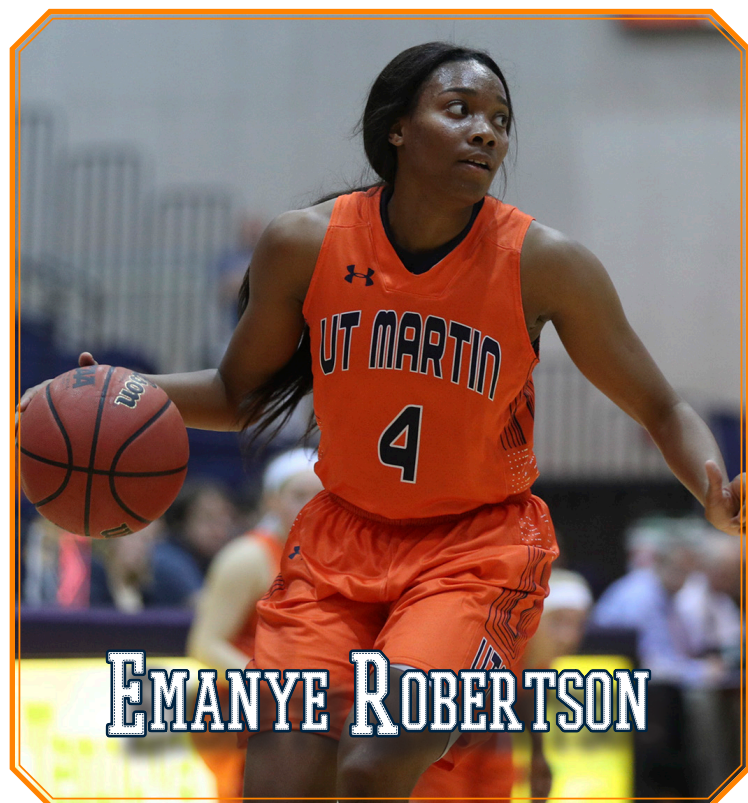

The Skyhawks boast just one senior in Robertson on the squad along with a one junior in Aundrea Adams - a junior college transfer from Northeast Mississippi Community College. From there UT Martin returns sophomores Perry, Waldrop, Zaire Hicks and Demi Burdick while the trio of Damiah Griffin, Paige Pipkin and Tamiah Stanford will look to make their Skyhawk debuts after missing the 2017-18 campaign with season-ending knee injuries. Rounding out the squad six true freshmen Emma Davis, Sade' Hudson, Brittini Moore, Jalynn Landversicht, Kyarra Grant and Kyannah Grant.

"We push them every drill and every day to be the best that they can be," McMillan said. "They've been knocked down quite a few times, but they continue to get back up and I appreciate that. The kids have an idea of the standards we have set in our program, but they don't understand the work that was put in to develop the standards. We are constantly asking them, 'how do you want to leave your mark on the program?'"

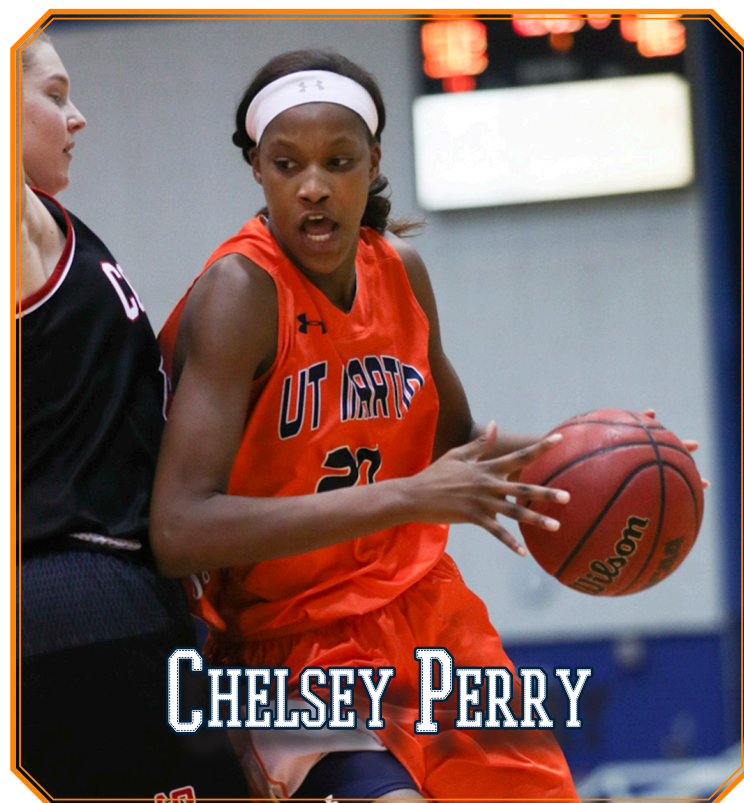

Robertson has started 87 games while playing in 97 since making her Skyhawks debut. She tallied 10.9 points per game last season while notching 3.5 rebounds, 3.7 assists and 1.7 steals per game. For her career she has scored 844 points while ranking sixth in program history with 356 assists. As a junior, she scored in double figures 19 times while ranking in the OVC top-10 in steals (2.1, fourth), minutes played (34.7, fifth), assists (4.4, sixth), assist/turnover ratio (1.4, sixth) and field goal percentage (45.7, eighth).

Perry burst onto the scene last season by averaging 11.2 points, 4.7 rebounds, 1.3 steals, 1.2 assists and 1.1 blocks in 26.4 minutes per game as a freshman. She was rewarded for her strong play by being named to the OVC All-Newcomer squad along with the OVC All-Tournament team while notching three OVC Freshman of the Week honors. She ranked second in the nation amongst true-freshmen with an 86.7 percent free throw percentage while notching 20 games in double-figures – including four games with at least 20 points. Along with her scoring ability, she notched 38 blocks which ranked fourth on the program's single-season leaderboard.

Waldrop also became a valuable contributor for the Skyhawks as the team's de facto sixth man, playing in all 34 games while garnering three starts. She averaged 5.7 points, 5.5 rebounds and 1.1 assists in 21.7 minutes per game. She scored in double figures five times while recording at least five rebounds on 21 different occasions.

EMANYE ROBERTSON

CHELSEY PERRY

While the experience – or lack thereof – of the current roster only equates to seven years in a Skyhawk uniform, McMillan believe that there are leaders in the program that are just waiting to emerge. “Somebody is going to have to emerge as a leader if we are going to be really good this year,” he said. “With all of the freshmen and sophomores we have, we have to hope someone emerges to take that role and lead this team to something special. When I look at the team, Emanyé may not be the vocal leader, but her play can be an example to others. Meanwhile, Chelsey and Maddie have the ability to vocally challenge and encourage their teammates, even though they are only sophomores. Leaders can emerge from youth regardless of experience.”

One way in which UT Martin will look to combat the potential challenges of youth is a change in play style. While the playbook has always been fluid, the Skyhawks enter the season looking to maintain a quick pace while using the team’s vast depth and athleticism to force the action defensively through pressure defense.

“Depth is going to be a strength which will be different for us,” McMillan said. “I think they will play hard and that will overcome some of our problems. West Tennessee fans and media are knowledgeable. When you go and see kids playing hard, you believe they are going to be ok. These kids are diving for loose balls, jumping into the stands chasing things down, they are doing the things they need to do. The questions we have are, what are the fundamental skills that they are going to bring? When are they going to understand the speed and when will their skills adjust to that speed? Those are all factors that we are trying to get.”

The Skyhawks will have the ability to work on their craft in the friendly confines of the Kathleen and Tom Elam Center for much of the early portion of the non-conference schedule with four of the team’s first five games being played at home. UT Martin will open the season against Samford on Nov. 6 before hosting Southern Illinois (Nov. 9), Arkansas State (Nov. 17) and Christian Brothers (Nov. 19) to add familiarity to a young squad. The hope is several home games will better prepare the squad for road matchups against IUPUI (Nov. 13), Northwestern (Nov. 25), Chattanooga (Nov. 28), Louisville (Dec. 4) and Lipscomb (Dec. 9).

“It’s a pretty good schedule because we play some really good teams. There are some really good mid-majors on that schedule in IUPUI, Southern Illinois, Chattanooga and Arkansas State while the big guys like Louisville and Northwestern fill out the schedule. Every game on here is great for us and the day we take a game for granted will be a big mistake.”

“The best part about this team is that they are coachable right now and that’s a huge thing,” McMillan said. “We are going to see a lot of growing pains as the season gets going like you would expect out of a young team but if they can just play hard though, we will find a way. The way we are going to be play is fun to watch. We are going to get out there and get after you. We’ve been waiting years to do it and we finally can.”

SKYHAWKS PUNCH ANOTHER TICKET TO THE POSTSEASON IN 2017-18

While the 2017-18 season was slated to be a year of growth and rejuvenation after a disappointing season in which the squad posted its first losing season in seven years, the Skyhawks rattled off yet another strong campaign.

UT Martin strung together an impressive season with an overall record of 19-15 while going 13-5 in Ohio Valley Conference play. The Skyhawks were rewarded for their strong play with a second place finish in the league standings which they turned into the program's sixth OVC Basketball Championship title game appearance in the past eight years. Along with the strong season was the team's seventh postseason appearance in eight seasons.

The Skyhawks looked to find their groove through non-conference play with matchups against Northwestern, Chattanooga, No. 4 Louisville, Saint Mary's, Purdue and Eastern Washington highlighting the slate. Using the non-conference schedule as a primer for league play, UT Martin posted a 4-8 mark.

With a proverbial new season on the horizon, UT Martin began to find its groove through OVC action. After a pair of quick losses, the Skyhawks would win 11 of their next 13 games to surge up the league standings and into tournament play.

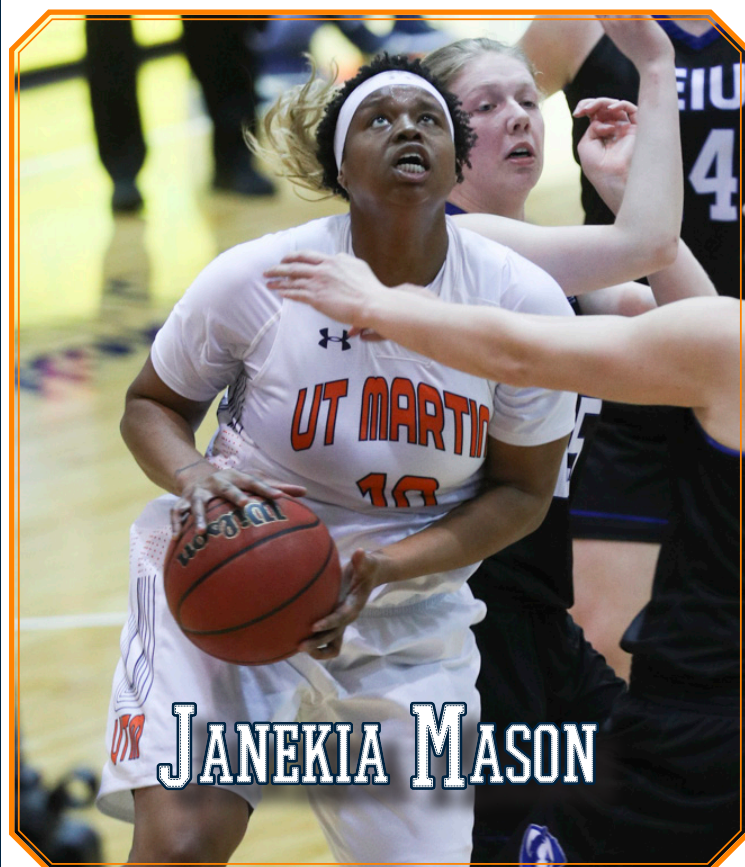

With the OVC Basketball Championship being contested at the Ford Center in Evansville, Ind. for the first time in league history, the Skyhawks made their move towards a tournament crown. The Skyhawks would tally a 63-60 win over Southeast Missouri in the quarterfinals before pulling out a narrow victory against SIUE by a score of 69-67 in the semifinals.

With a championship opportunity at hand, the Skyhawks battled No. 22 ranked Belmont in the title game, leading by as much as six with 25 seconds to play before the Bruins mounted a comeback in the final seconds. The lead would not hold however, as Belmont sank a pair of three-pointers down the stretch to force overtime before ultimately falling 63-56.

Despite the devastating loss, the Skyhawks secured a berth in the Women's National Invitation Tournament for the fourth time in program history and third time in the past four years. UT Martin would matchup against Big Ten foe Indiana in the first round before falling 74-50 to the ultimate WNIT champion.

Three players earned postseason honors from the OVC as voted on by the league's head coaches and sports information directors. Sophomore guard Kendall Spray was named to the All-OVC first team while senior forward Ashton Feldhaus earned a spot on the All-OVC second team for the second consecutive year. Freshman Chelsey Perry capped off the team's postseason honors by earning a spot on the OVC All-Newcomer squad.

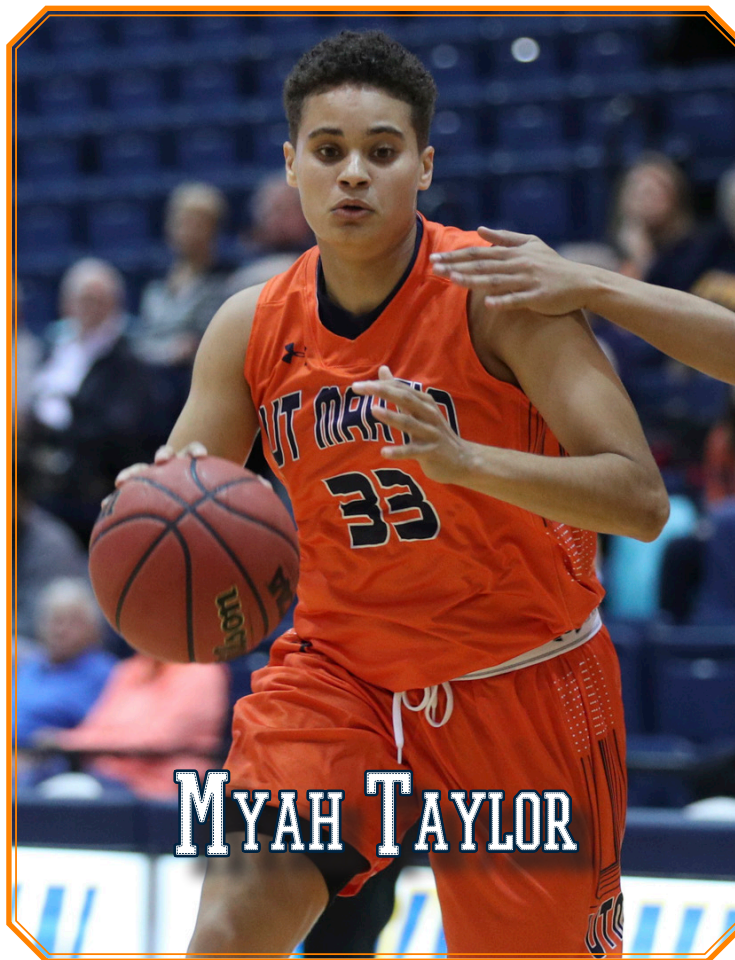

Spray became the 10th player in program history to earn All-OVC first team honors after ranking as one of the league's top scorers and the nation's elite three-point threats. Spray ranked fourth in the OVC by averaging 16.7 points per game while tallying 3.2 rebounds, 1.6 steals and 1.5 assists per game in 34.6 minutes per game. Along with her high scoring output, Spray ranks second nationally with 125 made three-pointers, fourth in three-point field goals per game (3.7), fifth in three-point field goals attempted (294) and 21st in three-point field goal percentage (40.7 percent).

Spray tallied 28 games in double figures – including 10 games over 20 points and three games with 30 points or more. Her best game of the season came against Rhodes College on Dec. 7 when she scored a career-high 35 points while knocking down a single-game record 11 three-pointers. She has made 125 three-pointers, ranking as a new single-season record while notching 15 games with at least four made three-pointers.

Feldhaus has overcome physical limitations during her senior campaign to notch All-OVC second team honors for the second time in her career. Feldhaus took her game to another level in league play, averaging 10.7 points, 3.4 rebounds and 2.2 assists per game. She tallied 11 games in double figures, all coming in OVC play. Her best game of the season came against Southeast Missouri on Feb. 10 when she tied a career-high with 23 points while knocking down 7-of-15 shots. Another stellar performance came against Murray State on Jan. 6 where she scored 19 points on 8-of-8 shooting from the field.

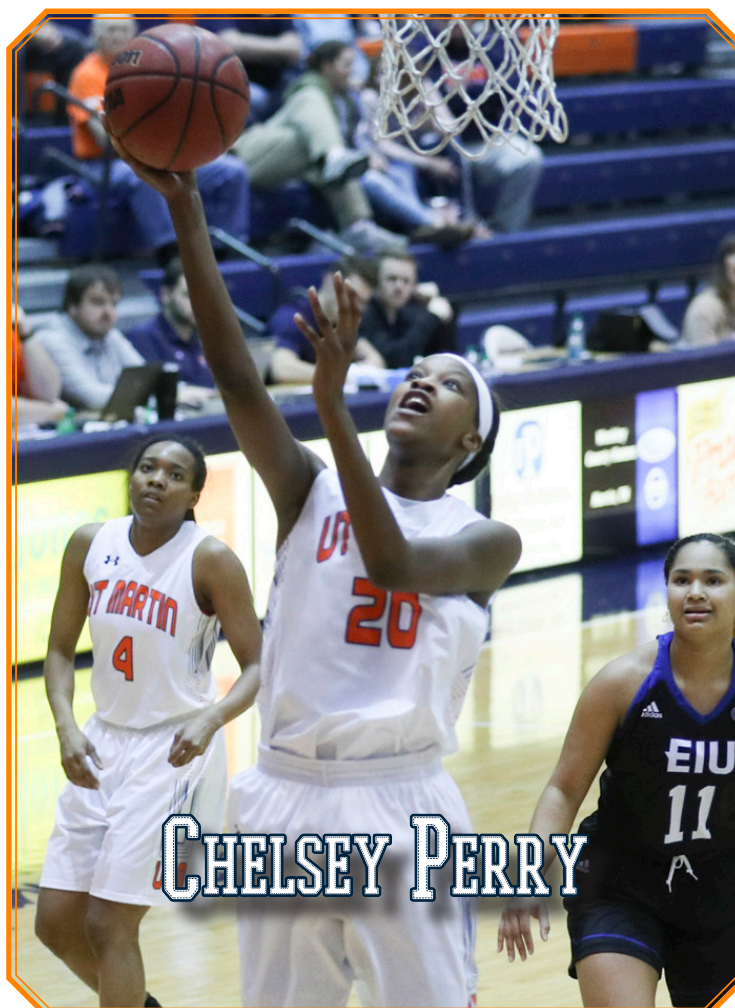

Perry burst onto the scene in a big way for the Skyhawks, starting in 31 of 34 games as a freshman while becoming the 11th player in program history to earn a spot on the OVC All-Newcomer squad. Perry proved dynamic during her freshman season, averaging 11.2 points, 5.7 rebounds, 1.2 steals, 1.2 assists and 1.1 blocks per game. She also ranked first nationally amongst true freshmen with a free throw percentage of 86.7 percent. Additionally, she ranked seventh in the league in blocked shots (38). She has tallied 20 games in double figures – along with four games over 20 points against Morehead State (24), SIUE (22), Southeast Missouri (21) and Morehead State (21).

Olympic Appearances as a player:

Olympic Appearances as a coach:

Head Coach, Gold Medal

Success and accomplishment have always followed Pat Head Summitt. By the time Summitt graduated from The University of Tennessee at Martin in 1974, she symbolized the prototype player of the decades to come. She was described as a strong player that had great instincts and was awesome on defense. She denied the ball all over the court, rebounded with authority, took the ball to the hoop and then could shoot the lights out over a zone defense.

In her career as a Lady Pacer Summitt helped UT Martin to a record of 62-15, which included two AIAW District Tournament Championships, one AIAW Tennessee State Tournament Title, one AIAW Regional Championship and an appearance in the 1972 AIAW National Tournament.

Only four games into her final season as a Lady Pacer, Summitt suffered a near career-ending knee injury. After she went down with an injury, the UT Martin team won only two games the rest of the season to finish 6-15. Even with her final season cut short, Summitt ended her career with 1,405 points, which stood as the career record for points scored in a career until 1989.

In 1973, following her junior season, she made her first U.S. national team when she represented the United States at the World University Games in the Soviet Union. She returned to UT Martin for her senior season with loftier goals, such as making the 1976 Olympic team when she was hampered by the knee injury.

She was determined to get the knee back into shape and try out for the Olympic Games, but not many people gave her a chance. The University of Tennessee in Knoxville, though, showed its confidence in her abilities as a coach when the school offered her a graduate teaching assistantship and the reins to the women's intercollegiate basketball team as a 22-year-old. The position suited her needs to a "T" -- she could pursue her career and stay close to basketball as she rehabilitated her knee.

The late Helen B. Watson, the former chairperson of the University of Tennessee's Physical Education Department, can be credited for bringing a young Pat Head to Knoxville. Watson asked Head to coach the Tennessee women's team in a letter dated April 30, 1974, when Head was a 21-year old senior at UT Martin. In her letter, Watson wrote, "we have an excellent potential team, and I believe that they would be happy to have you as their coach."

At the time, Head was being courted as the assistant coach who would also serve as a graduate teaching assistant in the Physical Education Department at Tennessee while she pursued her master's degree. An enthusiastic Head accepted the position. Imagine her shock two weeks later when Watson called back and informed Head that the women's basketball coach, Margaret Hutson, had decided to take a sabbatical and Tennessee was offering her the job as head coach. Head, who had never run a practice or made out a practice plan or schedule, said she really contemplated her decision because as she put it, "I was absolutely overwhelmed and scared to death."

Patricia Sue Head arrived in Knoxville as the new head coach and was practically the same age as the seniors on her team. A little shy at the time, she never corrected Dr. Helen B. Watson or Dr. Nancy Lay, her mentors in the UT Physical Education Department, when they shortened Patricia to Pat, assuming that's the name she went by. Head never mentioned to them that she had gone by Tricia or Trish her whole life.

In her first year as a collegiate coach, she led her team to a 16-8 overall record, attended classes as a master's degree candidate, taught physical education classes and stayed in playing shape. As the summer of 1975 approached, she thought the knee was ready for a big test. The knee held and so did Summitt -- held, that is, a spot on the U.S. Women's World Championship team and the 1975 Pan American Games team.

After another summer of international experience, she returned home to coach her Lady Vols to a 16-11 record, a second-place finish in the state tournament and a spot for herself on the 1976 U.S. Olympic Team. Playing on the Olympic Team in Montreal at the Games of the XXI Olympiad was the high point of her competitive playing career, as she helped lead the United States to a silver medal finish while serving as the team's co-captain.

After her player career was done, Summitt continued to find Olympic and international success as a coach, to go along with her storied success at The University of Tennessee. In 1977, Summitt was given the first U.S. Junior National Team to coach, and she led it to two gold medals in international play. What makes it so remarkable is that one year earlier Summitt was a player on the U.S. Olympic Team.

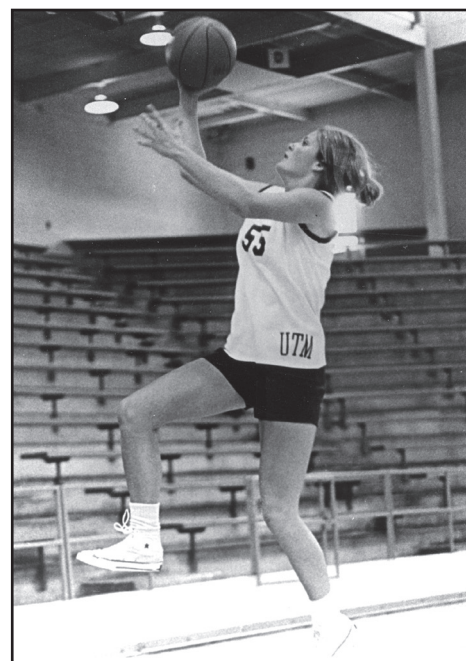

Her next international challenge was taking the U.S. National Team to the 1979 William R. Jones Cup Games, the 1979 World Championships and the 1979 Pan American Games. Summitt and her team returned home with two gold medals and one silver medal.

When the Moscow Olympic Games rolled around in 1980, she was honored as the assistant coach to the late Sue Gunter. Although the United States boycotted the Games, the team still captured the pre-Olympic qualifying tournament title.

In August 1982, Summitt was named the 1984 U.S. Women's Olympic basketball coach, and the rush for the gold was on! She coached the 1983 World Championship team to a silver medal finish; but the silver was not indicative of the team's play.

The XXIII Olympiad in Los Angeles, Calif., found Summitt's U.S. squad tearing through the opposition by a bundle of points. When the gold medal was a reality, Summitt's team lifted her high and carried the "All-World" coach around the Los Angeles Forum for all to applaud.

Pat Head Summitt was a member of the UT Martin Lady Pacers women's basketball team from 1970-74, before going on to win a silver medal at the 1976 Olympic Games and eventually becoming the winningest coach in college basketball history.

Heather Butler holds every three-point record at UT Martin, along with three NCAA records after her time with the Skyhawks.

Butler set a pair of NCAA records as a junior, making a three-pointer in 34 consecutive games in 2012-13 while setting another record with 80 straight games with a trifecta.

In 2013-14, Butler tied the NCAA record for career three-pointers made with 392, tying Kansas State's Laurie Koehn set in 2005. The NCAA career three-point record was later broken.

1998-99 OVC SEASON

1999 WNIT FIRST ROUND

March 11, 1999 • Skyhawk Arena
UT Martin 77, Ole Miss 66

The University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team used a 20-7 second-half run to break open a close game and defeat Ole Miss, 77-66, Thursday night at Skyhawk Arena in the first round of the Postseason Women's National Invitational Tournament.

After taking a 33-22 lead into halftime, the Skyhawks still led by one, 40-39, with 15:00 to play. However, the 20-7 spurt over the next 8:28 gave UT Martin a 60-46 lead with 6:32 left in the game.

The Skyhawks extended the lead to 66-50 on a Nichole Lockridge jumper with 5:06 to play, and the Lady Rebels would get no closer than nine points the rest of the way.

"Ole Miss was the more aggressive team in the first half. Once we got the lead, we became tentative," said UT Martin co-head coach Gary Van Atta. "We did a better job on the defensive end in the second half and were able to nullify their quickness. We couldn't stop Boyd inside, but we did a good job on Bethley and Myatt."

Tessa Fields led four Skyhawks in double figures with 25 points, including 11-of-13 free throws. Zabrina Harris posted a double-double, finishing with 16 points and 13 rebounds. Tamika Brown and Lockridge each scored 10 points, while Tracy Webb pulled down a career-high 11 rebounds for UT Martin.

The Lady Rebels (15-13) were led by Frankie Boyd who finished with 24 points and 10 rebounds. Tarsha Bethley also posted a double-double, registering 17 points and 10 rebounds. Sinissia Wysinger pulled down a team-high 11 rebounds for Ole Miss.

The Skyhawks matched the school record for wins in a season while improving to 22-8, the best mark for a UT Martin women's team since the 1972-73 team finished 22-4. The victory was the ninth straight at home for the Skyhawks, setting a new school standard.

1999 WNIT SECOND ROUND

March 15, 1999 • Elma Roane Fieldhouse
Memphis 87, UT Martin 73

The University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team shot just 31 percent from the field while losing an 87-73 decision to Memphis in the second round of the Postseason Women's National Invitational Tournament Sunday at Elma Roane Fieldhouse.

Seniors Tessa Fields and Nichole Lockridge each had 13 points to pace the Skyhawks, while Zabrina Harris and Chastity Bohannan contributed 12 and 11 points, respectively. Tracy Webb pulled down a game-high nine rebounds.

Conference USA Player of the Year and All-America Tamika Whitmore led Memphis with a game-high 25 points in spite of playing only 23 minutes because of foul trouble. Kelly Herron added 18 points, while Malissa Bush finished with 13 points for the Lady Tigers.

In spite of a 29-18 rebounding edge at halftime, the Skyhawks trailed, 40-30, at intermission. Memphis opened the second half with an 8-2 run to take a 48-32 lead with 17:48 to play.

The Skyhawks battled back to pull within 52-46 with 12:53 left after a 14-4 UT Martin run. However, Herron scored seven straight points to put the Lady Tiger lead back at 12, 64-52, with 8:26 to go. UT Martin would get no closer than 10 the rest of the way.

The Skyhawks conclude a 22-9 season, while the Lady Tigers improve to 21-9 and advance to face Arkansas State in the quarterfinals.

For the first 20 minutes of this afternoon's matchup against Duke in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, The University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team traded blows with the No. 2 seeded Blue Devils on their own home floor. However, Duke opened the second half on a 9-0 run and never looked back. UT Martin suffered a 90-45 loss at Cameron Indoor Stadium.

Ohio Valley Conference Freshman of the Year Heather Butler capped off her spectacular debut season with a team-best 15 points tonight, while junior Taylor Hall added 10 points off the bench for UT Martin (21-11). Jasmine Newsome also chipped in nine points for the Skyhawks, who were making their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance.

"In the first half we didn't play as well as we can play and we were down 10," UT Martin head coach Kevin McMillan said. "I felt pretty good about that, but I was worried about the gas that was left in the tank. You hope that your adrenaline will kick in and that you can find ways to fight in the second half and make a shot or two. The thing about this game is that once the snowball got rolling it was gone. We didn't have much of an answer."

Jasmine Thomas' 18 points led the Blue Devils, who will advance to play Marist in the second-round on Monday. Chelsea Gray and Haley Peters also scored 11 points for Duke, who improved to 30-3 on the season.

Duke scored the first five points of the game before Beth Hawn converted a wide-open layup 50 seconds into the game to put the Skyhawks on the scoreboard. The Blue Devils then scored five unanswered before a Jaclyssa Haislip three-pointer from the right wing made the score 10-5.

The Skyhawks trailed by nine before UT Martin scored four straight points off a Hall jumper and backdoor layup by Butler to slice its deficit to five points at the 13:27 mark.

The Blue Devils then went ahead by 11 points thanks to six straight points in the paint, but Newsome took over. The lightning-quick guard scored five straight points in 55 seconds for the Skyhawks to help UT Martin stay within 10 points.

A Hall trey from the right corner at the 4:18 mark made the score 32-22, but the Skyhawks went scoreless for the next 2:14 while Duke opened up a 15-point lead. Another Hall three-pointer ended the drought, igniting a 9-4 run to close out the half and send the Skyhawks into the locker room trailing 41-31.

Newsome's nine points paced UT Martin at the break, while Butler and Hall poured in eight points apiece. Thomas tallied a game-high 10 points for the Blue Devils in the first half.

Duke's big run to begin the second half ended when Hall sank a pair of free throws at the 16:55 mark. However, the Blue Devils scored seven of the next nine points before Butler drilled a three-pointer from the right wing with just under 15 minutes to play.

That would be the last field goal the Skyhawks would make for the next 4:52, as a long jumper by Butler at the 10:05 mark broke the scoreless streak. Duke responded by hitting back-to-back three-pointers to push its lead out to 71-41 at the under-eight minute media timeout.

UT Martin would endure another lengthy span without a field goal, as a layup by Perica Glenn at the five-minute mark ended a 12-0 Blue Devil run and made the score 77-43. Duke then scored the next 12 points of the game before Butler leaner with 22 seconds left ended the scoring on both sides.

The University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team sold out to its plan Saturday afternoon in the first round of the NCAA Tournament against Tennessee at Allstate Arena Saturday afternoon.

However the team made a few mistakes that the coaching staff recognized and Tennessee used its size and depth to eliminated UT Martin from the NCAA Tournament, 72-49. The setback ends UT Martin's 14-game winning streak and sends Tennessee into Monday night's second round against the winner of the BYU-DePaul game.

"What we had planned on doing, we did the whole game," UT Martin head coach Kevin McMillan said. "We sold out on our plan, and that was to control who shot the ball and where they shot from and for the most part we did a good job. I think we only made three or four mistakes that we were upset about as a staff."

The Skyhawks fell behind 5-0 with 17:59 to play in the game, but went on a 7-0 run thanks to sophomore Jaclissa Haislip's 3-pointer with 16:39 to play in the first half.

"I think the few times in the first half when I was getting points I was slipping by a screen and catching them off guard," Haislip said. "So, I think their defensive plan they had worked all night. We got the shots we wanted we just had to put them in the hole."

Tennessee answered the UT Martin run with an 8-0 run of its own and took a 13-7 lead when senior Glory Johnson made a layup. Tennessee never trailed again in the game. Johnson was held to four points in the first half, but had seven of her game-high 12 rebounds in the first half.

Tennessee led at the half 35-26. UT Martin shot 28 percent from the field in the first half and 25 percent from behind the arc. Despite the poor shooting effort Haislip scored 10 points in the first half.

Tennessee opened the second half with an 8-0 run and led 43-29 when Briana Bass knocked down a 3-pointer. Tennessee made 10 3-pointers, while UT Martin who entered the game averaging 10.4 3-pointers per game only made four three balls.

McMillan said his team will take several things away from the loss to Tennessee.

"We were much better today than we were a year ago at Duke," he said. "We were out rebounded 52-39 and that was an acceptable margin. Taking things away from this game, Tennessee played two mid-majors all year, and they won both of them by 35 points, and here we are, shooting as poorly as we shoot, and we played them to 23."

"Where we fell short is we have to score more points."

Heather Butler led UT Martin with 14 points, while Haislip finished the game with 12 points and Jasmine Newsome added 10 points.

Meighan Simmons led Tennessee with 20 points, while Johnson added 14 points.

The Skyhawks finished the season with a 23-9 won-loss record and for the second consecutive season only lose one senior, Taylor Hall, to graduation.

"We have marked the novelty off (going to the NCAA Tournament), now we have to figure out how to win a game," McMillan said.

Junior guard Heather Butler put on a show this afternoon in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, pouring in a season-best 37 points against No. 1 seed Notre Dame, but the Skyhawks fell 97-64 to the Fighting Irish in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

UT Martin (19-15) matched the No. 2 team in the nation shot-for-shot for the majority of the first half, led by the prolific scoring of Butler. The 5-5 sparkplug out of Medina scored 20 straight points for the Skyhawks at one point, tallying her 10th career game of 30 or more points. She ended her day with a 13-for-30 shooting performance, adding five free throws in eight attempts. She also drained six of her 11 three-point attempts, extending her NCAA records of consecutive games with a three-pointer (80) and in a season (34 games).

Butler's 37 points are the most points scored in the 2013 NCAA Tournament first round with the results from four games still pending. Butler passed Central Michigan's Crystal Bradford in that category, as Bradford scored 36 points against Oklahoma in first round action on March 23.

Butler's 37 points are also one point shy of the all-time record for an opponent against Notre Dame, nearly passing Latasha Byers' 38 point performance for DePaul against the Fighting Irish on Jan. 16, 1995. It is the most points any player has ever scored against Notre Dame in an NCAA Tournament game, passing Connecticut great Maya Moore's 36 point outing against the Fighting Irish on April 3, 2011 in the Final Four.

"I thought Butler had probably the best individual game anybody's had against us all year long," Notre Dame head coach Muffet McGraw said. "She was phenomenal. I think we slowed her down for four minutes, but she played extremely well. What a great performance by her."

"What that young lady does is absolutely amazing," UT Martin head coach Kevin McMillan said. "She had an opportunity to play against All-Americans and I would think 37 points is a pretty good day against a No. 1 seed."

Two-time Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year Jasmine Newsome also added 15 points and five assists for UT Martin, who closes out its season with a 19-15 overall record after making its third straight NCAA Tournament appearance.

Notre Dame (32-1) was led by 27 points from Jewell Loyd and a double-double (22 points, 10 rebounds) by Kayla McBride. Natalie Achonwa (16 points) and Skylar Diggins (10 points) also led the Fighting Irish, who won their school-record 27th straight game.

Notre Dame scored the first four points of the game until a layup off an offensive rebound by Rickiesha Bryant got the Skyhawks on the scoreboard at the 18:38 mark. The Fighting Irish extended their lead out to 14-4 with 15:23 to play in the first half but Butler answered right back with an old-fashioned three-point play to get UT Martin within seven.

After Notre Dame went ahead by 11, the Skyhawk offense started clicking on all cylinders. A pull-up jumper by Butler sparked a 7-0 UT Martin run over a span of 1:17 to pull the Skyhawks within four points (20-16) with 12:19 to play.

Butler stayed hot, scoring 15 consecutive points for the Skyhawks - including a backdoor layup and free throw for another old-fashioned three-point play - to keep UT Martin within striking distance at 28-24 with just under nine minutes to go before the halftime break.

Butler's 23 points led all scorers at the break, as she made eight of her 17 field goal attempts including a trio of three-pointers. Loyd's 17 points paced the Fighting Irish, who shot just 14.3 percent from beyond the three-point arc in the first 20 minutes.

The fourth time was nearly the charm for the University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team against nationally ranked No. 12/13 and No. 4 seed North Carolina on Saturday afternoon, but the Skyhawks final attempt fell just short as the game ended 60-58 in heart-breaking fashion.

The Skyhawks (24-8) led for the majority of the game, changing their game plan which ranked them third in the nation in scoring going into the contest to a patient half-court offense and defensive pressure. Holding the Tar Heels, a team which averaged 80.7 points per game going into the tournament, to just 60 points the Skyhawks liked their chances.

The Skyhawks shot 45.8 percent from the floor in the second half, but came up dry in the second half, shooting just 30 percent from the field. The lead changed hands four times while seeing five ties. The Tar Heels finished the game on a 28-8 run over the game's final 10 minutes of play.

UT Martin was led by the play of senior Heather Butler who tallied a game-high 19 points on the night, including three three-pointers which tied the NCAA record for career three-point field goals made with 392 which ties Kansas State's Laurie Koehn from 2002-05. Butler finished with 2,865 career points which moved her into a tie for 16th place on the NCAA's all-time scoring list and with 129 straight games with 10 points or more. Ashia Jones joined in the action on the afternoon with 18 points and eight rebounds, including 11 points in the second half. Jasmine Newsome and Katie Schubert tallied eight points each.

"I thought that we did exactly what we planned on doing in the ball game," said UT Martin coach Kevin McMillan. "We wanted the game to stay at 60, in the 60s, and not get out of the 60s. I thought we executed and did everything we wanted to do. We tried to defensively make them get a little frustrated and take some time off the clock and we wanted to try to get to the foul line and keep the rebounding fairly close. Most of those things we did, I thought these kids...it was an extremely, extremely large challenge for us because that's not how we play. We press and we run and we shoot it quick and I think we're 3rd in the country in scoring. For these kids, especially these two seniors, to buy into changing that for this basketball game was actually unbelievable."

The Tar Heels (25-9) were led by freshman sensation Diamond DeShields who tossed in 15 points, 13 coming in the second half, before fouling out with 1:34 to play. DeShields was joined in double figures by Xylina McDaniel who tallied 14 points and nine rebounds.

North Carolina knocked down the first two shots of the game, jumping out to an early 4-0 lead. The Skyhawks would begin to get stops from there as Butler knocked down a 15 foot jump shot before hitting a three-pointer to give the Skyhawks the 5-4 advantage. Schubert would pull up on a dribble drive to cap off the 7-0 run for the Skyhawks. UT Martin would lead 7-5 going into the first media break at the 15:37 mark.

The Skyhawks would use a 13-3 run over the final 4:42 of the first half to take a 35-22 advantage into the halftime break. Butler led all scorers with 13 points while Schubert tallied eight and Jones tossed in seven points. The Tar Heels were led by McDaniel with nine points.

Jones opened the second half with dominating performances, scoring 11 points in the opening minutes of the second half. The Skyhawks put together a 8-3 run over the four minute span, taking a 48-32 leading into the 10:52 media break.

With the Skyhawks trailing by two, Newsome drove into the paint before hitting an open Karisma Tyson for a three-point opportunity, but the historic upset would not be in the cards as the shot missed wide as they final horn sounded.

The University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team battled in the first round of the Women's National Invitational Tournament but could not overcome Ole Miss on Wednesday night, falling 80-70.

The Skyhawks saw their season come to a close with a 22-11 overall record after punching their ticket to the program's fifth consecutive postseason appearance. Three players scored in double figures for the Skyhawks led by the play of sophomore Ashia Jones' 17 points. On top of leading the team in scoring, Jones broke the program's single-season scoring record with 772 points, surpassing the previous record of 770 set by Jasmine Newsome during the 2012-13 season.

Providing depth for the Skyhawks was the play of Chelsea Roberts who tallied 13 points while completing numerous hustle plays to get the squad back in the contest in the second half. Monique Jackson posted an impressive return to Ole Miss where she played her first three years of her career - scoring 10 points while tallying six rebounds.

Ole Miss advances to the second round of the Women's NIT behind the play of Kelsey Briggs with 19 points and six rebounds off the bench. Erika Sisk tallied 16 points while All-SEC first teamer Tia Faleru tossed in 12 points and five rebounds for the Rebels.

UT Martin would come out of the game on a quick 4-0 run seeing jumpers from Jones and Roberts to give the Skyhawks an early advantage. Following a pair of jumpers by the Rebels, Jessie Ward would knock down a three-pointer of her own to take a 7-4 advantage into the opening media timeout.

Ole Miss would respond with a 7-0 run of its own during a two minute span, giving the home squad its first lead of the game at 13-11 at the 12:07 mark. The Rebels would score nine points during a stretch of over four minutes, finding baskets from Faleru, A'Queen Hayes, Kiara Golden and Shequilla Joseph.

The two teams would go back and forth over the ensuing five minute stretch, seeing both teams score seven points while taking a 20-20 stalemate into the 7:33 mark of the first. Jones would tally four of the Skyhawks seven points during the span while Roberts would knock down a three-pointer from the right wing to momentarily take a two point lead with just over eight minutes to play.

The Rebels would take over from there, stringing together an 11-0 run over four minutes, seeing their lead reach as high as nine points. The Skyhawks would finally snap the run with a three-pointer from Ward at the 4:54 mark.

After seeing the Skyhawks cut the lead as slim as five off a jumper by Jones to give the sophomore her 10th point of the contest, the Rebels would turn up the heat. A pair of three-pointers from Joseph and Briggs to close out the half on a 7-0 run. With the strong finish, Ole Miss would take a 39-27 lead into the halftime break.

It would look like the Skyhawks would come out of the locker room looking to make strides as Roberts knocked down a three-pointer in the opening minute but the tale would tell a different story. Ole Miss would respond with a 13-0 run over the ensuing three minutes of play while holding the Skyhawks scoreless for nearly four minutes. During the run it was Sisk and Briggs who would do all the damage - including eight points from Briggs - while stretching the squad's out to 23.

The Skyhawks would not go quietly however, stringing together an 11-0 run of their own during a two minute stretch while pushing an overall run of 15-2, trimming the margin to as close as 10 with just under 12 minutes to play. The bench depth of Haley Howard, Karisma Tyson and Monique Jackson would combine to score 10 of the team's points during the run.

The bench depth would continue to shine as Tyson knocked down another trifecta to cut the margin to single digits, sitting at 56-49 at the 11:12 mark. The Rebels would finally snap the Skyhawks significant run with a three-pointer from Gracie Frizzell on the left wing.

The Skyhawks would trim the margin to as close as five in the final minutes, but a jumper by Jones at the 2:28 mark would be the squads final points of the night before seeing their season end with an 80-70 deficit.

2015-16 OVC SEASON

2016 WNIT FIRST ROUND

March 17, 2016 • Elma Roane Fieldhouse
UT Martin 79, Memphis 73

The University of Tennessee at Martin women's basketball team notched its first postseason victory since 1999 with a 79-73 road victory at regional foe Memphis in the first round of the Women's National Invitational Tournament on Thursday night.

The Skyhawks (22-8) led for nearly 39 minutes of the contest despite seeing the lead change hands four times in the fourth quarter. Seeing the team's margin jump out to as high as 20 points early in the second quarter, the Skyhawks stayed the course while the margin slowly diminished behind a strong third quarter run by the Tigers.

With the victory the Skyhawks notched the team's second postseason win in the program's 24-year Division-I history, matching a WNIT first round victory over Ole Miss on March 11, 1999. It also snapped a five-game postseason losing streak while notching the team's 22nd victory of the season, ranking as the third most wins in program history.

For a senior class which includes four-year starter Katie Schubert, the game summarized her career in a nutshell: clutch. Entering the game, Schubert was looking to notch her first postseason victory, tie the program record for individual victories and needed 19 points to move into the program's top-20 scoring leaderboard. Schubert would be up to the task in all three respects, scoring 19 points – including five points in the final 36 seconds to seal the team's victory while tying the 2014 trio of Heather Butler, Jasmine Newsome and Megan White with 87 career wins.

Schubert led a balanced scoring attack which featured five players in double figures. Along with her game-high 19 points, Schubert tallied seven rebounds, four assists and a steal while playing all 40 minutes. Fellow senior Haley Howard tossed in 16 points while Memphis native Emanye Robertson scored 14 points – tying a career-high. Shy Copney provided 12 points off the bench while Ward scored seven points in the fourth quarter to finish with 10 on the night.

OHIO VALLEY CONFERENCE

Now in its 71st year, the Ohio Valley Conference continues to build on the success that has made it the nation's eighth-oldest NCAA Division I conference.

In May 2011 the Conference expanded for the second time in four years, adding Belmont University which began competition in the 2012-13 academic year. The addition of Belmont gave the OVC 12 members, the most the league has had at one time in its illustrious history. The move added a second team in the city of Nashville and was the first addition to the league since Southern Illinois University Edwardsville joined in 2008. Subsequently, the league has shown its stability over the past decade, seeing only one member institution depart over the past 18 years.

The 2009-10 school year saw a change in leadership as Beth DeBauche was named the seventh full-time Commissioner in league history on July 28, 2009. The last three commissioners of the OVC have moved onto jobs as the commissioner of the Big Ten, Big 12 and the Mid-American Conferences.

The OVC's proud history dates back to 1948, but seeds for the new league were actually planted in 1941. It was then that Roy Stewart, the athletics director at Murray State, Charles "Turkey" Hughes, the athletics director at Eastern Kentucky, and Kelly Thompson, the public relations director at Western Kentucky, first broached the idea of forming a new conference. Discussions were put on hold by World War II, but reemerged February 27-28, 1948 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville as the three original institutions combined with Morehead State, Louisville and Evansville to form the OVC.

In the 1950s, the OVC became a pioneer on a much more significant scale socially. During times of racial segregation, league member Morehead State became one of the first non-traditionally black mid-southern institutions to accept a black student. In 1958 Marshall Banks earned athletically-related aid at Morehead, which signed a second black athlete, Howard Murphy, a year later. In 1961 Murphy earned all-conference recognition as a halfback in football. With racial barriers broken, the rest of the institutions in the league began to provide educational and athletic opportunities to African-Americans.

After Title IX legislation passed in 1972, women's athletics began a rebirth on the national scene as the NCAA began sponsoring and marketing women's sports. Recognizing the need to provide increased opportunities for female athletes, the OVC began formulating plans for women's athletics in 1975 and established women's championships in the sports of basketball, tennis and track in 1977, with cross country and volleyball added over the next four years. Those sports were initially governed by the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW), but the overall strength of women's programs in the league was demonstrated by the automatic bids the OVC instantly received when the NCAA became the governing body in 1982. The conference added women's golf and softball in 1994 and women's soccer in 1998.

Through the past 70 years, 15 teams have won or shared the league's football title. The list is led by Eastern Kentucky, winner of 21 outright or shared football crowns, which is tied for the most in Football Championship Subdivision history (with Massachusetts). Among OVC teams, former member Middle Tennessee is next with 11 titles, followed by Tennessee Tech with 10, and Murray State and former member Western Kentucky with eight apiece. Eastern Illinois and Jacksonville State have claimed seven football crowns apiece, while Morehead State, Tennessee State and former members Evansville and East Tennessee State have captured two apiece. Austin Peay, Southeast Missouri, UT Martin and former member Youngstown State have one title apiece.

Tennessee Tech has won or shared 18 regular-season women's basketball championships in addition to nine OVC Tournament crowns; both are tops in OVC history. UT Martin added its name to the list of championship by capturing its first OVC Tournament title in 2011 and also winning championships in 2012, 2013 and 2014. The Skyhawks became just the fourth team in OVC history (and first since Austin Peay from 2000-03) to win four-straight tournament titles. In 2016 Belmont won its first-ever OVC Tournament Championship, a feat it repeated in 2017 and 2018.

Several coaches have made their mark in the history of OVC women's basketball. Former Tennessee Tech coach Marynell Meadors posted an amazing 363-139 (72.3%) record at Tech, becoming the first woman in NCAA or AIAW history to win 300 games at the same institution, while former Tennessee State skipper Teresa Phillips earned National Coach of the Year honors from USA Today in 1990 for turning around the Lady Tigers' program before going on to lead TSU to the NCAA Tournament in 1994 and 1995. Tennessee Tech coach Bill Worrell capped a stellar 20-year career in 2005-06 and was inducted into the OVC Hall of Fame in 2007; he compiled a 408-190 record while leading the Golden Eagles to an unprecedented 16 OVC regular-season titles and eight NCAA Tournament appearances, including five straight from 1989-93. Larry Joe Inman, who retired at the conclusion of the 2007-08 season and was inducted into the OVC Hall of Fame in 2009, won more than 100 games at both Middle Tennessee and Eastern Kentucky, and earned OVC Coach of the Year honors a record eight times - five times at EKV and three at MTSU. In 2012-13 Inman came out of retirement to take the Tennessee State job; in 2014-15 he led the Lady Tigers to its first OVC Tournament Championship since 1995. Inman once again retired following the 2016-17 season, with 545 career victories.

Many great players have graced the hardwood over the years, including former OVC Players of the Year Brooke Armistead and Gerlonda Hardin from Austin Peay, Pam Chambers, Jerilynn Harper, Cheryl Taylor, Angela Moorehead, Roschelle Vaughn, Diane Seng, Janet Holt and Emily Christian from Tennessee Tech; Morehead State's Donna Murphy, Priscilla Blackford and Chynna Bozeman; Eastern Kentucky's Kim Mays; Southeast Missouri's Gray C. Harris; Murray State's Ashley Hayes; and UT Martin's Heather Butler and Jasmine Newsome.

Morehead State center Brittany Pittman set new school, league and NCAA standards for blocked shots in 2008-09. Pittman swatted 164 shots during the season, setting a new NCAA single-season record (which has since been broken).

In 2012-13 the UT Martin duo of Jasmine Newsome and Heather Butler finished fifth and sixth nationally among NCAA scoring leaders. Newsome, the 2012 and 2013 OVC Player of the Year, averaged 22.6 points per game on the way to All-American honors while Butler averaged 22.4 points per contest. Butler set a NCAA record during the season by connecting on a 3-pointer in her 80th-straight game.

In 2013-14 Butler and Newsome capped their brilliant careers by ranking first and second in scoring in OVC history. Butler, the 2013-14 OVC Female Athlete of the Year, finished her career with 2,865 points, which ranked first in OVC and 16th in NCAA history. She also finished her career with 392 career 3-pointers (which was tied for the most in NCAA history following her career but now ranks second) and scored in double figures in all 129 career games, which ranks fifth in NCAA history. Following the season Butler was signed by the WNBA's San Antonio Stars where she became the first OVC player to make an active WNBA roster. Newsome capped her career with 2,566 points, second only to Butler in OVC history.

The league also had another historical moment in November 2008 when the NCAA awarded Nashville the 2014 NCAA Women's Division I Final Four. The OVC served as the host of the prestigious event, which is one of the biggest sporting events the city of Nashville can host. The event was held April 6 & 8 at Bridgestone Arena in downtown Nashville and was played in front of sold-out crowds for both the semifinals and championship as UConn topped Notre Dame in a battle of undefeated teams to win its ninth national title.

In 2017-18, Belmont completed its second-straight undefeated league season, increasing its winning streak in Conference games (both regular season and tournament) to 46 games. The Bruins were ranked in both the USA Today Coaches Poll and Associated Press Poll during the year, becoming the first OVC team to be nationally-ranked since 1992-93. The Bruins finished the year ranked No. 23 in the AP poll.

The playing field is not the only place where OVC athletes are working hard. The league also recognizes excellence in the classroom. Six Scholar-Athlete Awards are presented yearly to male and female athletes, while others are commended for their academic success by being Medal of Honor recipients or earning a spot on the Commissioner's Honor Roll. Additionally, the league annually presents one institutional Academic Achievement Award, as well as separate team awards in each Conference-sponsored sport. Since the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-America program began, the Ohio Valley Conference has had 275 student-athletes honored with the award, including 81 over the last eight years (2010-18).

Through the early years of the league, administrators wrestled with fan behavior due to the close proximity of the Conference members and the intense rivalries which developed. Just as it did decades ago, the OVC took the leadership role on what has become a national issue. In 1995, the OVC implemented a first-of-its-kind "Sportsmanship Statement," a policy which promotes principles of fair play, ethical conduct and respect for one's opponent. The statement has become a model for others to follow across the nation and has answered the challenge of the NCAA Presidents Commission to improve sportsmanship in collegiate athletics.

Additionally, the OVC annually presents the Steve Hamilton Sportsmanship Award, in honor of the former Morehead State student-athlete, coach and athletics director, to a junior or senior student-athlete with significant athletic contributions who best exemplifies the characteristics of sportsmanship and citizenship. Most recently, the Conference has also implemented the OVC Institutional and Team Sportsmanship Awards, which are presented to one institution and 18 sport-specific teams voted by their peers to have best exhibited the standards of sportsmanship and ethical conduct as outlined by the OVC and NCAA.

The vision of leadership demonstrated by the Founding Fathers in 1948 remains alive today as the Ohio Valley Conference prepares for the future. One example is in regard to the current trend in collegiate athletics administration for increased involvement of university presidents in setting policies and making rules. The presidents of OVC institutions, however, have always governed the Conference, long before presidential governance became a national theme.

The Ohio Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis and track for men, and basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, track and volleyball for women. In addition, the OVC also sponsors the combined men's and women's sport of rifle.

Now in its seventh decade of competition, the Ohio Valley Conference has grown significantly from its humble beginnings while increasing the number of athletics opportunities it provides for students. Current league representatives include charter members Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and Murray State University, along with Austin Peay State University, Belmont University, Eastern Illinois University, Jacksonville State University, Southeast Missouri State University, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, Tennessee State University, Tennessee Technological University and the University of Tennessee at Martin.

KURT McGUFFIN

DIRECTOR OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Kurt McGuffin was officially named the 15th University of Tennessee at Martin's director of intercollegiate athletics on May 22, 2017.

McGuffin brings more than 18 years of experience in the collegiate athletics forum, including nearly six years as athletics director at Missouri Western State University, an NCAA Division II school located in St. Joseph, Mo. Before leading the Griffon athletics department in 2011, he also spent time as an assistant athletics director for development at the University of Colorado (2010-11), as a senior associate athletic director for external operations at Kansas State University (2000-10) and as an assistant director of athletics for development at the University of Idaho-Moscow (1999-2000).

In his time at Missouri Western, McGuffin achieved the highest student-athlete grade point average in the history of the school while also setting an all-time high for graduation rate and community service hours. He significantly increased revenue generation to annual and endowment giving by 30 percent and he launched a capital campaign that produced five of the top 10 gifts in university history, finishing off $13 million in building enhancements in the spring of 2016. In addition, he successfully added six additional sports to bring the total to 16 while collaborating to initiate a Master's program in Sport Business Management – which added 20 graduate assistants to his staff.

McGuffin oversaw six Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association championship squads in his tenure at Missouri Western. That includes the Griffon football program winning its first ever outright MIAA championship in 2012, a year where they also made the deepest postseason run in school history into the Division II quarterfinals. The Missouri Western baseball team claimed its first-ever MIAA title in 2013, the women's basketball team won the MIAA regular season in 2015-16 while the Griffon softball program racked up three conference championships (2014 tournament, 2016 regular season, 2016 tournament) in McGuffin's tenure. Just this past season, the Missouri Western baseball team qualified for the NCAA Tournament in back-to-back seasons (2016-17) for the first time in program history while the Griffon softball program made it to their fourth straight NCAA Regional. The women's golf program also saw freshman Chong Yong advance to the NCAA Championships, becoming the first individual in school history to accomplish that feat.

McGuffin also sustained previous successful programs and experienced growth in resources across the board at Missouri Western. He hired head coaches to lead the Griffon volleyball program to its highest win total since the mid-1990's and earning the most MIAA victories in program history in 2014. The Missouri Western tennis squad also took a new direction under McGuffin, resulting in its first winning season in more than a decade in 2014-15. The Griffon soccer program has also shattered over 20 school records while making its first ever postseason appearance in 2014 while the women's golf program advanced to its first ever NCAA Championship berth in 2016. As a direct result, McGuffin led the Missouri Western charge into the top-100 in the Learfield Cup standings, elevating the program from its 287 ranking when he took over.

Facility improvements were also paramount in McGuffin's success at Missouri Western. He raised nearly $8 million for a total renovation of Spratt Memorial Stadium while also helping construct a state-of-the-art women's soccer locker room and the Zack and Mary Workman Academic Success Center in 2014.

The upgrades to Spratt Memorial Stadium were instrumental in Missouri Western remaining as the summer home of the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs since 2010. McGuffin led the charge in 2014 as the Chiefs and Missouri Western announced an extension for St. Joseph as the sole training location through the 2017 season.

At Colorado, McGuffin created and implemented a new annual giving program which increased total giving by 15 percent. He added over 600 new members in the first year by establishing fundraising goals, implementing a new donor database, revamping the process of daily donations and planning special events. He also assisted with fundraising and development of a brand new $12 million sport court practice facility while taking part in a $1.5 billion university capital campaign.

In addition to his title as senior associate athletic director for external operations at Kansas State, McGuffin also served as the associate athletic director for development, the assistant athletic director for annual giving and the assistant director of athletic development in his decade in Manhattan. He completed over $25 million in facility enhancements while also leading a $90 million "Changing Lives Campaign." He also increased annual giving by 50 percent and endowments by over 70 percent.

McGuffin was the sport administrator for the Wildcat men's basketball, men's and women's golf and the men's and women's cross country/track and field programs. He led the development and implementation of a department-wide strategic plan while overseeing all external units (including development, ticketing, marketing and communication) responsible for a revenue of over $28 million and budgets of $12 million.

McGuffin led marketing campaigns that resulted in the largest football season-opening crowd in Kansas State history while also heading a sales group that sold out men's basketball games in three out of four seasons. In his tenure, the Wildcat women's basketball and volleyball programs were each in the top-10 nationally in attendance.

Before his first full-time role in athletics administration at Idaho-Moscow, McGuffin also was a graduate assistant for fundraising at Wichita State University, the director of men's basketball operations at Eastern Washington University and the head men's basketball student assistant at Kansas State.

McGuffin is a proud member of the National Association of College Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and the National Association of Development Directors (NADD). He has also spent time on the NCAA Men's Golf Ranking Committee and the NCAA Men's Basketball Committee.

An Iola, Kan. native, McGuffin graduated from Kansas State with a bachelor of science degree in education in 1996. He obtained his Master of Science degree in education from Wichita State in 1999. He is married to the former Jessica Whisler of Goodland, Kan. and the couple has three children – Bryce, Brett and Brea.
